Melbourne All Abilities Cricket Association 10th season celebrations

As Minister for Community Sport I'd like to extend my warmest congratulations to the Melbourne All Abilities Cricket Association on reaching your 10th season milestone.

Sport should be for everyone, and organisations like MAACA are making that a reality. Thanks to your hard work, more than 300 All Abilities players across 24 teams in 16 clubs are getting their chance to realise their dreams.

Community sport offers benefits for participants that extend beyond the playing field. Clubs can help give people a sense of purpose and belonging, and lifelong friendships that carry over even after our playing days have passed.

The Allan Labor Government is a proud supporter of cricket in all its forms.

The Sporting Club Grants Program continues to provide support to teams in the MAACA for strategic planning and the purchase of equipment to get more people active.

The Victorian Government backed AAAPlay website provides an online matching service for budding cricket stars to sign up for inclusive cricket teams like those in MAACA.

Working together we can ensure all abilities cricket in Victoria and associations like yours have an even brighter future and more to look forward to in the next decade and beyond.

On behalf of the Allan Labor Government, I wish all the teams in the MAACA the best of luck during the upcoming season.
